Harry:

Attached is the memo I have sent to [] concerning the classification review of the Baltimore Sun article. The article was written as a result of an interview with Stan Turner and we were asked to review the content for classified information. I understand Mr. Casey is very unhappy with some of the things that were said as quoted in the interview.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy General Counsel

FROM:
Director of Information Services, DDA

SUBJECT: Review of Article Appearing in the Baltimore Sun

25X1

1. The Classification Review Division (CRD) has reviewed the subject article and coordinated their actions with the DO. As requested in your memo, they have assumed that Admiral Turner made the statements attributed to him as they appear in the article. The conclusion reached is that Admiral Turner did divulge information that he learned while Director of CIA, which was classified when he learned it, and which has never been officially declassified or released to the best of our knowledge.

2. The results of the review are reported in three parts as follows: (a) the classified information related verbatim; (b) an explanation of its classifiability; and (c) the legal basis for the decisions:

(a) The information that is considered classified appears in the article as follows:
